

AVIATION DAY 2017

presented by Spartan College in partnership with United Airlines® and Mountain Aviation.

The job outlook for careers in aviation is strong. Boeing predicts a need for more than two-million pilots and technicians by 2035*.

Learn about various STEM related career opportunities in aviation such as:

- Mechanics
- Engineers
- Operations
- Pilots
- Electronics

Current confirmed participation from:

- Ball Aerospace
- CDOT Aeronautics Board
- Frontier Airlines
- Lockheed Martin
- Metropolitan State University
- Mountain Aviation
- Skywest Airlines
- Southwest Airlines
- Pilatus
- United Airlines
- US Air Force Academy
- US Army/Air National Guard

You can interact with government representatives, view various aircraft, talk to several schools and companies, plus so much more! Refreshments will be provided.

For more information or to RSVP, contact Nick Brown at 303-410-2407 or nicholas.brown@spartan.edu.

For school participation, contact Kim Vanderwall at 303-410-2414 or kimberly.vanderwall@spartan.edu.

